Previous positions (Selected)

President and CEO, Australian Law Reform Commission (ALRC) (7 June 1999 through 30 November 2009—the longest serving President in the history of the ALRC). I Chaired the Attorney-General's Task Force on Pro Bono Legal Services (see below) and presided over 14 other major inquiries, including:

- review of the federal civil justice system in Australia;
- review of the Judiciary Act 1903 (Cth);
- review of the Marine Insurance Act 1909 (Cth);

- the use of civil and administrative penalties in federal regulatory jurisdiction;
- the protection of human genetic information (genetic privacy, discrimination and ethical standards);
- intellectual property aspects of genetic materials and technologies (gene patenting and human health);
- the protection of classified and security sensitive information;
- review and harmonisation of the Uniform Evidence Acts;
- sentencing and administration of federal offenders;
- review of federal sedition laws;
- legal professional privilege and Commonwealth investigatory agencies;
- review of the Privacy Act 1988 (Cth) and related laws and practices;
- Royal Commissions and other official inquiries; and
- review of federal secrecy laws.

Member, Administrative Review Council (ARC) (1999–2009).

President, Commonwealth Association of Law Reform Agencies (2007–2009); formerly Vice President (2004–2006).

Technical Adviser to the Republic of Botswana on the establishment of a Botswana Law Reform Agency, reporting to the Attorney General (2009–2010).

Member, International Legal Cooperation Committee of the Attorney-General’s International Legal Services Advisory Committee (ILSAC) (2006–2009).

Chair, National Task Force on Pro Bono Legal Services. The Task Force was established by the federal Attorney-General, the Hon Daryl Williams AM QC MP, who launched the final Report on 29 June 2001 (which led to the establishment of the National Pro Bono Resource Centre).

Pro-Vice-Chancellor and Head of the College of Humanities and Social Sciences, University of Sydney (1997–1999). The College comprised the Faculties of Arts, Economics & Commerce, Education and Law; the Graduate School of Business; the Sydney Conservatorium of Music; and the Sydney College of the Arts; as well as numerous Research Centres, Institutes and Foundations. The Deans/Directors of those seven units reported directly to me, and I was responsible for academic oversight, strategic planning, and budget, financial and capital management for the College, which then had about 1050 staff, 18,000 undergraduate and postgraduate students, and an annual budget of about $110 million. The College administration itself had about 20 staff, and provided personnel, financial and commercial development services for the constituent faculties, centres and foundations. As Pro-Vice-Chancellor, I was a member of the six–person ‘Senior Executive Group’, headed by the Vice-Chancellor, which served as the executive management and policy development unit for the University.

Dean and Professor, University of Sydney Faculty of Law (1994–1997). Apart from the usual academic and management duties in a Faculty with about 70 academic and 30 administrative staff, 1300 LLB students and 800 postgraduate students, this included membership on the Boards of four associated research centres. (Emeritus Professor status conferred by the University Senate on 6 September 2004.)

Honorary Professor, Institute for Molecular Bioscience, University of Queensland (2004–2007) (and supervised one PhD candidate).

Honorary Professor, TC Beirne School of Law, University of Queensland (2004–2009).

Member, Australian Institute of Sport Steering Group on the Ethical Use of Genetic Information in Sport (2003–).

Honorary Visiting Professor, Faculty of Law, University of New South Wales (2004–2006).

Foundation Member of the Board, Sydney Peace Prize Foundation (1998–2003), established to award an annual international peace prize and support research in this area. Sydney Peace Prize recipients include Dr Muhammad Younis of Bangladesh, founder of the Grameen Bank (1998); Archbishop Desmond Tutu, of South Africa (1999); and President Xanana Gusmao, of East Timor (2000).

Acting Judge, District Court of New South Wales (1 July 1997–30 June 1998).

Commissioner, New South Wales Law Reform Commission (full-time 1990–1993; part-time 1994–1999). As the only full-time Commissioner, I was in charge of a wide range of references, including: Adoption and Adoption Information; Scrutiny of the Legal Profession; Criminal Procedure; Neighbour and Neighbour Relations; Blasphemy; Common Law Crime; Defamation; Partial Defences to Murder; Persons with an Intellectual Disability and the Criminal Justice System. I also served as a Member of the Commission's Divisions on Anti-Discrimination Law; Environmental Law; Sentencing of Aboriginal Offenders; Aural and Visual Surveillance Devices; Right to Silence; and Evidence and Procedure in Sexual Assault Proceedings.

Associate Professor, University of New South Wales (UNSW) Law School (1979–1990; Lecturer 1979–1982; Senior Lecturer 1982–1987)

Dean of the Faculty of Law (1978–79) and Lecturer in Law, University of Papua New Guinea (1976–1979).

Member, Access to Justice Advisory Committee (1993–1994). This ad hoc committee was established by the Commonwealth Attorney-General and the Minister for Justice to advise the Australian Government on reform of the justice system; the final report was launched in May 1994.

Member, New South Wales Legal Practitioners Admission Board (1996–1997, Alternate 1994–1995). This is the body with statutory responsibilities for setting and assessing qualifications to practice law in New South Wales.

Commissioner, Law Reform Commission of Fiji (part-time 1994–1995). I was responsible for initiating a review of Fijian criminal laws and procedures.

Member, Standards Australia Technical Committee OB-009 on Quality Management — Dispute Management Systems in Organizations (2003–2005), considering the adoption/adaptation of AS ISO 10002–2004 (which supersedes AS 4269 and 4608).

Member, Law Programs Advisory Committee, Southern Cross University (2002–2004).

Member, Editorial Board, Current Issues in Criminal Justice journal (1994–2004).

Member, Board of Management, Centre for Legal Education (1994–1997).

Member, Advisory Board, Justice Research Centre (1996–1997). (Now known as the NSW Law & Justice Centre.)

Foundation Member of the Board, Sydney Kings Foundation (1995–1999), an educational/charitable foundation established by the Sydney Kings and Flames basketball organisation.

Member, Gender Issues Implementation Committee (1996) established by the NSW Attorney General to monitor the implementation of the 1995 report Women Working in the Legal Profession in NSW. The Committee's own report was launched in late 1996.

Member, Standards Australia Technical Committee (1993–1996) on Complaints Handling, which developed the Standard AS 4269–1995: 'Complaints handling'.

Chair, Committee of Australian Law Dean's Sub-Committee on National Appraisal/Accreditation (1994–1996).

Foundation Member of Executive Committee, International Diplomacy Training Program, University of New South Wales (1990–1994). I was involved in both management and teaching in this program. The Foundation Chair of the Program, Professor Jose Ramos-Horta (now President of Timor L'Este) was awarded the Nobel Peace Prize in 1996.

Member, Working Group on Cross-Cultural Issues in the Practice of Law, NSW Ethnic Affairs Commission (1992–1993).

Honorary Consulting Editor, The Laws of Australia – Criminal Law (1991–1993).

National Reporter, International Sociological Association's Working Group on Comparative Legal Professions, Project on the Cultural History of Legal Professions (1992–1994).

Member, Justices Act Review Select Committee, NSW Department of Courts Administration (1991–1992).

Member, Aboriginal Justice Committee, Law Society of New South Wales (1992).

Member, Law Reform and Review Committee, Law Society of New South Wales (1991).

Consultant and Member of Working Party, Papua New Guinea Law Reform Commission (1990) on reform of the PNG Criminal Code and criminal procedure.

Consultant, Law Reform Commission of Victoria (1988–1990), on reform of the law of homicide, including sentencing of homicide offenders and defences to murder.

Consultant, Papua New Guinea Law Reform Commission (1977–1983). Assisted the Commission with its references on customary law and review of the Criminal Code; prepared submissions and draft reports; participated in working groups and seminars.

Consultant, Australian Law Reform Commission (1982–1985). Assisted the ALRC with its reference on Recognition of Aboriginal Customary Law. Involved in consultants' meetings and seminars; advised on custom recognition regimes in the Pacific Islands.

Foundation Director, the Aboriginal Law Centre (now the Indigenous Justice Centre), UNSW (1980–1985 and 1988–1990).

Foundation Member, South Pacific Studies Centre, UNSW (1987–1990).

Professorial Fellow, University of Wollongong, Faculty of Law (1992–1993).

Visiting Scholar, UCLA School of Law (Oct 1989–Feb 1990, while on sabbatical).

Visiting Professor of Law, University of Hawaii Richardson School of Law (Spring Semester 1986, while on sabbatical); conducted research presented seminars, and taught a one-unit course on Pacific Islands Law.

Visiting Fellow, University of Hawaii Pacific Islands Studies Program and the East-West Center Pacific Islands Development Program (July 1982–Feb 1983).

Teaching Assistant in the English Department, Queens College, CUNY (1971–1972), in Remedial English and English Composition.

PRIOR LEGAL PRACTICE

Consultant (and Expert Witness) (1989–1990) for Ebsworth & Ebsworth in the matter of Bougainville Copper Ltd v Metals and Mineral Insurance and Others, the litigation arising in the Supreme Court of Victoria out of the extended closure of the Bougainville Copper Mine in Papua New Guinea by rebel landowners.

Legal Adviser to Otsuka Industries and the Osaka law firm of Shiomi and Yamamoto (1981–1985). Provided professional legal advice on Otsuka's involvement in a multi-million dollar joint venture integrated timber resources project in New Ireland Province, Papua New Guinea. This involved matters of contract law, commercial law, company law, private international law, and international trade, finance and investment law. I also represented the joint venture in negotiations with the relevant Ministers and senior public servants.

Staff Lawyer/Intern, Office of the Legislative Counsel, the Congress of Micronesia, US Trust Territory of Pacific Islands (1974). Served as a legal adviser and legislative draftsman, with special responsibilities for the Congressional Committees on Resources and Development, and Health, Education and Welfare. Assisted in the preparation of the Micronesian position paper for the first United Nations Conference on the Law of the Sea, and in the preparations for the first Constitutional Convention.

Attorney at Law, Levinson, Rowen, Miller, Jacobs and Kabrins, Los Angeles (1975).

Research Officer, United States Department of Commerce, Office of Telecommunications (May–Sept 1973). Worked on the introduction and regulation of 'Pay TV', and prepared the Department's submission to the Federal Communications Commission on TV broadcast closed-captioning systems.

Legislative Assistant, to Assemblyman Arthur Cooperman of the New York State Legislative Assembly (part-time, 1971–1972).

PUBLIC COMMENTARY and COMMUNITY SERVICE

I have been a regular commentator in the mass media on matters relating to law reform, the legal profession, the Pacific Islands, criminal law and practice, public law, and educational issues. Over the past ten years, I have been involved in well over 1000 media interviews (press, radio and television), seminar and conference presentations, and public addresses.
